Pursuant to the Constitution of the State of Montana, at the hour of 12:00 noon, the House of Representatives of the Forty-third Legislative Assembly of the State of Montana, was called to order by the Honorable Frank Murray, Secretary of the State of Montana, who extended greetings to the assembly on behalf of the State of Montana.

The Secretary of State then announced the following temporary appointments: Reverend George Harper, of Helena, Montana, Temporary Chaplain; Don Scanlin, Billings, Montana, Temporary Sergeant-at-Arms; Ed Smith, Helena, Montana, Temporary Chief Clerk; and Rosella Wilson of Wilsall, Montana, Temporary Journal Clerk.

The Chief Clerk called the roll by districts, all members being present except Rep. Lien, absent due to death in his family.

Secretary of State Frank Murray introduced the Honorable John C. Harrison, Associate Justice of the Montana Supreme Court, who administered the following oath:

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Members of the Senate were admitted to the House.

Assembly being in joint session, Lt. Governor Christiansen, occupying the chair for the joint session, appointed the following committee to notify the Governor that the Senate and House of Representatives had convened in Joint Assembly and were ready to hear his message. Senators Manning and Mather, and Representatives Bardanouve and Haines.

Posting of the Colors by Major William M. Liston and staff from the Montana National Guard.

Invocation by the Senate Chaplain.

His Excellency, Thomas L. Judge, then appeared and was escorted to the rostrum. After being presented to the assembly by the President of the Senate, he delivered his address:

"These are the best of times and these are the worst of times.

It is the age of wisdom and it is the age of foolishness.

It is the season of light and it is the season of darkness.

We have everything before us and we have nothing before us . . ."

These paraphrased words of Charles Dickens, who never saw Montana, prophetically describe the contradictions affecting our State at this time.

We have a great treasure of natural resources but the land has been exploited and the wealth has gone out of the state.

We have a myriad of possibilities but thousands of our people face this winter without jobs and the lack of opportunity forces many of the young to leave home.

We have clean air and clear water and inspiring reaches of unspoiled land but the quality of our environment is threatened by impending development.

We have implemented significant management reforms in state government but these programs must be expanded and refined to further reduce the waste and inefficiency that penalize our taxpayers.

We have a new Constitution, but we must now confront the practical problems of implementing the provisions of this document.

We have an opportunity for tax relief but we must continue responsible economy in government, eliminate unnecessary expenditures and discourage the growth of a huge bureaucracy.

We have a proud history but many of the descendants of the great Indian patriots live in destitution on and off the reservations.

We have inherited the frontier principle of helping others but we do not have the resources to adequately assist many people who cannot earn a decent living.

Balancing the contradictions between the realities and the great expectations of Montana is the critical challenge of political leadership in 1973 and the remaining years of this decade.

Open land and the resource potential of the West were once considered to be infinite. Times have changed. The land has been degraded and locked up and resources have been recklessly depleted. Too often we respond to land and resource management questions with the answers of a hundred years ago.

It is time that we establish a new land ethic in this country, particularly in Montana where we still have something of value to protect. Consumer demands have extracted a terrible price from the land. And we cannot continue foolishly to meet these demands without regard for tomorrow.

Since the days when mercenary hunters slaughtered the buffalo into virtual extinction, Montana's resources have been greedily exploited.

Outsiders came in and extracted the resources, sent the profits elsewhere and left us with nothing but the forlorn memories of their passing.

We must change our attitudes about the disposition of our resources. And we must answer three essential questions in regard to any development.

1. What effect will the development have on our environment, our economy and our society?
2. What will Montana and our people receive for the development?
3. Is this what Montanans want for their state?

Montanans for the first time must control their own destiny. We have an obligation to provide people with the facts and the alternatives to enable them to make rational and informed decisions.

It is time that we set goals for Montana. Priorities for progress. These must be the goals Montanans want for their state and for their children.

I believe a fundamental goal is to protect the qualities of life that make Montana a special place to live and at the same time provide employment opportunities and security for our people.

Eastern Montana was once a remote and ignored area, lost in the vast interior of this country. The prairies and mountains and pine hills are a land of legend—the location of the last desperate battles of the Indian wars.

When the signal smoke had vanished forever from the promontories, the land was forgotten by the remainder of the country. And the farmers and stockmen came to earn a hard living from the earth.

Now Eastern Montana has been rediscovered because of an unprecedented demand for energy. There are an estimated 30 billion tons of strippable low-sulphur coal buried beneath the plains. The industrial development based on this energy source could be one of the largest in the world.

The coal to be torn from the land and utilized in steam generation and gasification plants is only an interim or stop gap energy source. If we do not accept our responsibilities today, the destructive boom and bust cycle will be repeated again. Our resources will be exploited without appropriate compensation for Montanans. And the stark beauty of the plains will be changed into an unworldly landscape of spoil banks leaching acidic wastes into our streams and occluding our skies with poisonous dust.

To deny the possibility of this apparition you must enact and I must sign into law the strongest strip mining control regulations in the history of this country.

The land must not be reclaimed for only cosmetic effect. It must be restored to beneficial use—agriculture, recreation or other purposes. And if these requirements cannot be met, strip mining should not be allowed to proceed.

I also propose that the tax per ton on coal be increased to provide the state a more just return from the development of this irreplaceable resource.

Every time a ton of coal, a pound of copper, a barrel of oil or a cubic foot of natural gas is taken from the ground, Montana loses something that can never be replaced. These resources ideally belong to Montanans—the men and women who settled and built this state. And I believe Montanans should be compensated when the resource wealth of their State is diminished.

I, therefore, recommend creation of a Resource Indemnity Trust Fund—a levy on all non-renewable resources extracted in Montana. A levy of one-half of one per cent would be assessed on the gross value of coal, metal mines, oil and natural gas production. This would raise approximately $1 million per year. This trust fund will be exclusive of all existing and future levies on these resources.

The earnings from this tax would be invested. The interest income would be available for immediate problems. The principal would be set aside to be utilized when the taxed resources are ultimately depleted. Then the fund would be applied to correct environmental damage, provide recreational areas and establish new opportunities for people to continue to live and work in Montana.

The Resource Indemnity Trust Fund would be the public's share of Montana's natural resources. This is not too much to demand because this State will relinquish its natural resources to meet the requirements of the national economy in the coming years.

Agriculture is the basis of the State's economy. And it would be a mistake of historic magnitude to allow this renewable resource base to be depleted and destroyed by a hit and run development.

The steam generation and coal gasification plants proposed for the Fort Smith region will consume inordinate quantities of water. It is essential to consider this critical issue now and to establish and determine Montana's right to assure that water required for irrigation and recreation is not monopolized by industrial consumers.

To understand fully the effects of proposed power plants will have on our state, I recommend a comprehensive study assembling all available resources at the federal, state and local level.

I propose a power plant siting bill that will give Montana sufficient time to adequately assess the impacts of proposed installations. Cities and towns possess the authority to decide the location of gas stations. And it is reasonable that the state should be able to control the siting of power plants, transmission lines and rail spurs.

Degradation and depletion of our land resources are occurring—continually because of unguided urban and rural sprawl, improper selection of residential and industrial sites, wasteful use of farm, range and forest lands and other unplanned developments. In Montana we must encourage prudent utilization of our land. The right to economic opportunity and freedom of choice in the use of land, however, should remain with the property owner where it does not destroy the resources or conflict with a safe, clean and healthy environment.

I urge your favorable consideration of the Interim Montana Land Use Regulation Act proposed by the Department of Intergovernmental Relations. This would authorize the Department to hold public hearing to designate areas of state or regional significance—areas that have environmental, natural, historic or recreational features or resources requiring proper planning or development control. I believe this authority is essential to preserve those features that make Montana unique among the 50 states.

We must also have the authority to prevent subdivision developments from scattering across lands that would be better suited for agriculture and recreation purposes.

I advocate passage of legislation to establish the rights of Montanans in regard to our water resources.

Open land, hunting and fishing and other outdoor recreation are fundamental to our way of life in Montana. We must face the fact, however, that the once limitless land has been restricted and is no longer sufficient to adequately meet the recreational needs of the people of Montana.

To preserve the heritage of open land and unsurpassed recreational opportunities, I propose that we increase available matching funds to acquire and develop fishing and small game access sites and expand public recreation facilities for state and local government.

These proposals can be the beginning of a new land ethic in Montana. The environment and our resources have been exploited for more than 100 years. And now it is time to correct the mistakes of yesterday and to save the good in this land for tomorrow.

The political history of Montana has been twisted by the influence and domination of special interest groups. More than fifty years ago, Governor Joseph Dixon first proposed reorganization of the executive branch and constitutional revision.

These programs were destroyed by the special interest lobbies who exerted too much influence over state government.

In the past four years, the voters approved both executive reorganization and a new Constitution. We now have the opportunity to solve some of our persistent problems and provide positive leadership in Montana.

The Executive Reorganization Act of 1971 minimized the structure of governments. This program has significantly improved economy and efficiency in the operation of the executive branch and has saved the taxpayers nearly $2 million since it was implemented. But this is only a beginning.

I recommend the establishment of an Office of Government Operations to further refine the machinery and administration of the executive branch. This office will scrutinize government operation, identify deficiencies, and continually work to attain a higher level of economy and performance.

Many of the functions of the executive branch were created to deal with specific problems and in many instances the bureaucracy has outlived the problem. The proposed office of Government Operations will have the capability to monitor the functions of the executive branch to evaluate programs and eliminate wasteful practices that are robbing the taxpayers.

The Executive Reorganization office has prepared several bills which I urge you to enact. These bills will abolish the State Liquor Control Board and transfer its functions to the Department of Revenue, establish a totally integrated Department of Labor; and provide that the Department of Revenue will be headed by the Director and that the Board of Equalization will be constituted as the Board of Tax Appeals. I also support legislation to strengthen the Department of Agriculture.

I encourage cooperation among all agricultural interests to develop a truly effective farm program for Montana.

State government in the 70's must address itself to the problems of our cities and towns. The state must offer assistance to local government to improve efficiency and economy.

Improved performance anywhere stretches the general tax dollar. Policy should not be dictated from Helena but management and accounting procedures proven at the state level should be utilized locally.

The increased demands on local government have caused property taxes to spiral.

Property tax relief is a major priority of this administration. To accomplish this we must first equalize assessments statewide to insure that everyone pays their fair share and not one dollar more.

Research is needed to establish the level of government best suited to perform a function and the most economical method of delivering required services.

Welfare is one of the most controversial issues in America. The people receiving assistance do not think it is sufficient. And most of those supporting welfare think it is extravagant.

There are careless provisions in the assistance laws that act as incentives to encourage people to remain on welfare.

Montana law denies medical, hospital, and nursing home benefits under Medicaid to all but welfare recipients. This regulation encourages people to remain on welfare level to provide an incentive for people, who can and should work, to go out and find a job without forfeiting their medical benefits. This is the type of approach that I will apply to provide an incentive for people to escape welfare rather than being imprisoned by the system.

Eligibility and resource requirements for welfare recipients will be strictly enforced by the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services and the Department of Revenue.

I recommend that funds be appropriated to match available federal monies to establish day care centers. Mothers who are willing and able to work—and better provide for their families—need the help day care centers can provide. Furthermore, I believe more mothers will seek employment when they know their children are provided decent care and supervision during the day.

The people of Montana have generously supported education. And we now face many difficult questions regarding public support of our schools, community, colleges, universities and vocational-technical programs.

The school foundation program was established in 1949 to provide a basic education for all Montana children regardless of economic and social circumstances. Today there are great inequities in the Foundation Program.

I propose that the School Foundation Schedules be increased by 5 percent in each year of the biennium. This will provide an additional $12.75 million in aid to education. And it will be the first time in the history of the Foundation Program that a Governor has recommended increased schedules for the Foundation Program and funded the increases within the existing tax structure. The additional $12.75 million in contributions to the School Foundation Program plus the $7.5 million recommended in the executive budget will provide $20.25 million in property tax relief. This direct relief to property owners all across Montana represents more than 150% of the revenue sharing funds received by the state during the same period.

Since 1899,* Montana statutes have provided that any school district or board could establish a kindergarten program. But state funds have never been available for this purpose.

A key element in our future will be the ability to better prepare and educate our pre-school children. If a child's intellectual growth has been stunted before he is six years old, his chances of success in our education system are needlessly restricted.

It is, therefore, essential that we establish a state kindergarten system in Montana.

Higher education should be viewed as a resource, and funds expended on our colleges and universities should be considered an investment. To receive an appropriate return on our investment, however, we must establish priorities for the maintenance of quality and the elimination of extraneous and duplicating programs.

The questions Montanans are asking about post secondary education cannot be answered.

Therefore, I recommend state matching funds for a Blue Ribbon Commission to study the future of post secondary education and develop a comprehensive "Montana Plan."

Hopefully, this plan will provide a blueprint to enable us to maintain quality and serve the educational needs of all the state's students, at a level of funding Montanans are willing to support.

Our young people have not yet been subjected to the epidemic of drug abuse which plagues other states. There can be no question that drug abuse is a serious and growing problem in Montana. We must act now if we are to protect our people, particularly the young.

Almost a year ago, it was determined that no less than a half dozen state agencies were involved to some extent in the administration of various drug abuse and education programs. There was no overall coordination nor comprehensive effort on the part of the state.

To help correct this problem, a special action program on addictive diseases has been created within the office of the Governor. In cooperation with the federal government, the various programs are being brought together into a single attack on drug abuse and other addictive diseases.

I am pleased to inform you that Montana has been selected as one of ten states for serious consideration for a model program in addictive diseases. If selected, our program will be among the best in the Nation.

One problem that cannot be ignored is the 26,000 men and women who are unemployed in our state.

Cutbacks in federal funds for highways and other programs have adversely affected our economy. We must increase our efforts to help Montana business expand and to attract new industry that is compatible with a quality environment.

We must employ economic development specialists who have the expertise to develop new jobs in our state.

The office of the Federal-State Coordinator working closely with the Montana Congressional delegation has proven to be a good investment. I propose to strengthen this office to work for those programs that are beneficial to Montana.

I also propose to expand the State advertising Unit of the Department of Highways to engage in a new program to attract regional and national conventions and tours to Montana.

I intend to involve the private sector of our economy in these economic development projects.

The Advisory Committee on Workmen's Compensation will present recommendations to this Assembly. This Committee, comprised of representatives of labor and industry, has reached agreement on a number of improvements in the Workmen's Compensation laws. And urge your support of the Committee's recommendations.

Last year, approximately 400 Montanans met with an untimely death on our highways. We must increase our highway patrol, enact laws to crack down on the drinking driver and require a defensive driving course for consistent violators.

I encourage ratification of the 27th Amendment to the Federal Constitution guaranteeing equal rights for women.

Tomorrow I will send you amendments to the executive budget which detail the priorities of my Administration. The budget message will propose a plan to finance these programs.

These proposals will assure that Montanans will continue to receive the 75 per cent reduction in the income tax surcharge for the next 30 months.

The reduction of the surcharge from 40 to 10 per cent results in a tax saving of $34 million. This is an income tax reduction of $148 for the average Montana family.

The fundamental objective of this budget is to finance government at a reasonable level and support the programs and policies that are needed in Montana at this time.

This is a taxpayer's budget. It is neither austere or extravagant.

It represents total tax relief of $54.25 million.

And it is a strong and viable program based on effective management and precise determination of priorities that will enable state government to fulfill its responsibilities without imposing unreasonable obligations on the taxpayer.

If these recommendations are followed, it will be the first time in recent history that the Legislature can adequately fund state government and reduce taxes.

I urge your support.

In the past, legislative sessions have been bitterly sundered by irreconcilable differences. Outsiders have continually exploited these factions to promote their interest in Montana.

Today we must answer many critical questions, and we cannot allow our differences to destroy the opportunity we have to solve the serious problems and realize the great expectations of Montana.

We must diminish our differences and emphasize that which we have in common. We are Democrats and Republicans and representatives of urban and rural interests. But more importantly, we are all Montanans. And this higher allegiance must guide our deliberations.

Benediction was given by the House Chaplain.

The Governor having been escorted from the chamber, it was moved by Senator Lynch that 1,000 copies of the Governor's message be printed and distributed to the Legislators, state officials and others. Motion carried.

It was moved by Senator Lynch that the joint assembly be dissolved and that the members of the Senate return to the Senate Chambers.

The joint assembly having been dissolved, the House resumed business at 1:40 p.m.

Mr. Speaker in the Chair.

1-7. Questions of privilege are: first, those affecting the collective rights, safety, dignity, and integrity of the proceedings of either house; and second, those affecting the rights, reputation and conduct of individual members of either house in their capacity as members. A question of privilege affecting either house collectively takes precedence over a question of privilege affecting an individual member.

[1-8. The presiding officer of each house, in the presence of the house over which he presides, after due notice and immediately after the title has been publicly read, shall sign the original and one copy of each enrolled bill originating in the house over which he presides. The fact of signing shall be at once entered upon the journal. At the time of signing, if a member signifies his desire to examine the bill he shall be permitted to do so. The bill shall then be sent to the other house where the same procedure shall be followed. (Based in part on Montana Constitution, Art. V. Sec. 27)] (To be deleted 7-1-73).

1-8. When a bill has been reported correctly enrolled it shall be delivered to the presiding officer of the house in which the bill originated. The presiding officer shall announce from the rostrum, the announcement to be entered in the journal, the specific bills to be signed by him and shall designate a time when such bill shall be signed, and he shall sign the original and two copies of each bill delivered to him not later than the next legislative day after it has been reported correctly enrolled, unless the bill is delivered on the last legislative day in which event it shall be signed that day. The fact of signing shall be at once entered upon the journal. At any time after the report of a bill correctly enrolled and before the signing, if a member signifies his desire to examine the bill, he shall be permitted to do so. The bill shall then be transmitted to the other house where the same procedure shall be followed. (Effective 7-1-73)

1-9. The presiding officer of each house shall sign all [payrolls and] subpoenas approved or issued by the house over which he presides. The business manager will sign all payrolls.

1-10. (1) A communication or paper shall be addressed to the presiding officer, and shall bear the name of the person submitting it. When the reading of a paper is called for and a member objects, it shall be determined by a vote of the house without debate. This subsection does not apply to bills, or to communications from the governor or the other house.

(2.) A paper for or against proposed legislation may not be placed on the desks of the members or circulated within the chamber unless the person responsible has signed it and has received permission from the chief clerk of house or the secretary of the senate to distribute it in the house concerned.

1-11. When the presiding officer is a member of the house over which he is presiding he shall vote as any other member, and may not vote a second time.

(Material in brackets denotes cancelled type.)

2-1. The chamber of the senate and the hall of the house of representatives shall be open from 8 o'clock a.m. until 11 o'clock p.m. each day during the session, unless by resolution of the senate its chamber, or by resolution of the house its hall, shall be closed.

2-2. The hour of meeting of the Senate is 10 a.m. unless otherwise ordered by the Senate. The hour of meeting of the House of Representatives is 10 a.m. unless otherwise ordered by the House.

2-3. Lobbying on the floor of the Senate or House of Representatives is prohibited during the session and within one hour prior to the commencement of a session and within one-half hour after recess or adjournment.

[2-4. The sessions of each house and of the committees of the whole shall be open, unless the business is such as requires secrecy. (Montana Constitution, Art. V. Sec. 13)]

2-4. The sessions of the legislature and of the committee of the whole, all committee meetings, and all hearings shall be open to the public. (Montana Constitution, Art. V. Sec. 10(3)).

[2-5. During the discussion of a motion to close the doors of either house to discuss business which may, in the opinion of that house, require secrecy, the presiding officer shall exclude all persons, except the members and the chief clerk or secretary. Every member and employee of such house shall keep secret all matters ordered to be kept secret.]

[2-6.] 2-5. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn or recess for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting. (Montana Constitution, Art. V. Sec. [14] 10-(5))

[2-7.] 2-6. A majority of each house shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each house may prescribe. (Montana Constitution, Art. V. Sec. 10(2)).

[2-8.] 2-7. Unless he is excused, a member of the House or Senate shall be present at every sitting of the house of which he is a member.

[2-9.] 2-8. In the absence of a quorum, a majority of members present in either house may compel the attendance of absent members by ordering a call of the house of which they are members.

[2-10.] 2-9. If a quorum is present, five members of the Senate may order a call of the Senate, and fifteen members of the House of Representatives may order a call of the House.

[2-11.] 2-10. On a call of either house, a member who refuses to attend may be arrested by the sergeant-at-arms or any other person, as the majority of such members present shall direct. When the attendance of an absent member is secured after a call of either house, if the house of which he is a member refuses to excuse his absence, he shall not be paid any per diem during his absence and is liable for the expense incurred in procuring his attendance.

[2-12.] 2-11. During a call of either house, all business of that house shall be suspended. After a call has been ordered no motion is in order except a motion to adjourn or remove the call. The call may be removed by a two-thirds vote.

2-12. If either house is in session upon a given day, whether or not the other house is in session, that day shall constitute a legislative day.

(Material in brackets denotes cancelled type.)

CHAPTER 3

Legislative Employees

3-1. The legislative assembly shall prescribe [by law] the [number, duties and] compensation of the officers and employees of each house; each house shall prescribe the duties of its officers and employees and no payment shall be made from the state treasury, or be in any way authorized to any such person, except to an acting officer or employee elected or appointed in pursuance of law. ([Montana Constitution, Art. V. Sec. 28]).

3-2. Except as provided in Joint Rule 3-3 and Joint Rule 3-4, the business manager, subject to the supervision of the committee on legislative administration of each house and [shall appoint the employees of each house,] subject to the approval of the respective houses, shall be responsible for personnel.

3-3. The committee on legislative administration of each house shall appoint secretaries for standing or special committees on recommendation of the committee chairman, subject to the approval of the respective houses. A secretary for a standing or special committee is immediately responsible to the committee chairman, but when not occupied with the duties of a committee, a secretary of a committee of the House of Representatives shall work under the direction of the chief clerk of the House, and a secretary of a Senate committee under the direction of the secretary of the Senate. The director of the Legislative Services Division of the Legislative Council shall hire all engrossing and enrolling typists and proof-readers.

3-4. The Minority Floor Leader of each house may appoint a private secretary, who is responsible to him.

3-5. The secretary of the Senate and chief clerk of the House of Representatives are responsible to the presiding officers of their respective houses. Their duties are:

- (b) To supervise the [keeping] making and examination of the journal, [engrossing, and enrolling,] and the handling of bills and resolutions.
- (c) To deliver to the [secretary of state] appropriate officers or offices, as set forth in these rules during the session or at the close of each session, as required by these rules, the journal, bill books and resolution books, and all copies of introduced and engrossed bills and joint resolutions.

(d) To collect from the chairman or secretaries of all standing committees, and special committees, committees of the whole, and conference committees, the minutes of such committees and deliver them to the State Historical Society.

3-6. Journal clerks, bill clerks, [engrossing and enrolling clerks,] typists, and other employees responsible for legislative functions, except secretaries for standing or special committees, secretaries to presiding officers, and secretaries to majority and minority floor leaders, are immediately responsible to the secretary of the Senate or the chief clerk of the House, subject to general supervision of the presiding officer. Engrossing and enrolling clerks are immediately responsible to the director of the Legislative Service Division of the Legislative Council under the direction of the bills committee.

3-7. The duties of the engrossing and enrolling clerks are:

(a) To engross or enroll all bills delivered to them within forty-eight hours after they have been received, unless further time is granted.

(b) To correct clerical errors, with the consent of the secretary of the Senate or chief clerk of the House of Representatives, in any bill originating in the house by which they are employed. Clerical errors such as the following may be corrected:

( i) errors in spelling

(ii) errors in numbering sections

(iii) adding or deleting underlining or lines through matter to be stricken

(iv) material copied incorrectly from the most recent Revised Codes of Montana.

The secretary of the Senate and chief clerk of the House shall inform the principal sponsor of all such corrections. [No bill shall be corrected after engrossing.]

3-8. (1) The sergeants-at-arms are responsible to the presiding officers of their respective houses. Their duties are:

(a) To maintain order under the direction of the presiding officer.

(c) To receive, distribute and have custody of supplies.

[(d) To keep account for per diem and mileage of members and employees, and prepare and submit all claims for payment.]

[(e)] (d) To take an inventory at the close of each session of all furniture, fixtures, supplies, and other property and turn such property over to the state controller for custody until the next session. One copy of the inventory shall be kept on file in the office of the sergeants-at-arms.

(2) All expenditures of money appropriated for the operation of the legislative assembly must be approved by the committee on legislative administration of the house concerned.

3-9. The assistant sergeant-at-arms, doorkeepers, watchmen, janitors, pages and other employees responsible for general housekeeping functions are immediately responsible to the sergeant-at-arms, subject to the general supervision of the presiding officer.

3-10. The duties of the chaplain of each house are to open each day's session with a prayer.

3-11. The duties of the law clerks of each house are to draft legislation and perform legal research for members.

3-12. An employee of either house is prohibited from lobbying as defined in Section 43-802(1), R.C.M. 1947. However, an employee may testify before a committee of either house on the request of the committee. An employee violating this rule shall be discharged.

3-13. Disputes or complaints involving the competency or decorum of a legislative employee shall be referred to the committee on legislative administration of the house by which the employee is employed. The committee, in its discretion, may dismiss, suspend or retain the employee. The committee on legislative administration shall periodically review the roster of employees and shall dismiss surplus employees.

3-14. A business manager shall be employed to serve both the Senate and House of Representatives. The business manager will be permanently housed in the office of the Legislative Council to maintain an adequate set of bookkeeping records for each house, encumber funds, sign claims and payrolls, order all printing, supplies and equipment prior to a legislative session as well as during the session, and perform any other service for the leadership and the committees on legislative administration.

CHAPTER 4

Order of Business

4-1. After prayer, roll call, and report on the journal, the order of business of the Senate and House of Representatives is as follows:

- (1) Communications and petitions
- (2) Reports of standing committees
- (3) Reports of select committees
- (4) Messages from the Governor
- (5) Messages from the other house
- (6) Motions and resolutions.
- (7) First reading and commitment of bills
- (8) Second reading of bills (committee of the whole)
- (9) Third reading of bills
- (10) Unfinished business
- (11) Special orders of the day
- (12) Announcement of committee meetings

To revert to or pass to a new order of business requires only a majority vote. Unless otherwise specified in the motion to recess, the house involved shall revert to order of business No. 1 when reconvening after a recess.

CHAPTER 5

Motions

5-1. When a motion is made it shall be restated by the presiding officer, and, if requested by the presiding officer or a member, shall be reduced to writing and read aloud. A motion may be withdrawn by the member making it at any time before it is amended or voted upon.

5-2. When a question is under debate no motion may be made except the following privileged and subsidiary motions which have precedence in the order listed:

- (1) To adjourn
- (2) For a call of the house
- (3) To recess
- (4) Question of privilege
- (5) To lay on the table
- (6) For the previous question
- (7) To postpone to a day certain
- (8) To refer or commit
- (9) To amend
- (10) To postpone indefinitely

5-3. No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment or substitute.

5-4. A member who voted on the prevailing side of a question may, on the day the vote was taken or on the next day the house in which the action was taken is in session, move to reconsider the question. A motion to reconsider may not be withdrawn after such next legislative day without the unanimous consent of the house concerned, and thereafter any member may call it up for consideration; however, a motion to reconsider made after the fifty-fourth day of the session shall be disposed of when made. A motion to recall a bill from the other house constitutes notice to reconsider, and shall be acted on as a motion to reconsider. A motion to reconsider or to recall a bill from the other house may be made only under order of business No. 6, and under that order of business takes precedence over all motions except to recess or adjourn.

5-5. When a motion to reconsider is laid on the table, a two-thirds majority is required to take it from the table. When a motion to reconsider fails, the question is finally and conclusively settled.

5-6. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this rule, the effect of moving the previous question if adopted, is to close debate immediately, to prevent the moving of amendments or other subsidiary motions, and to bring to vote promptly the immediately pending main question and the adhering subsidiary motions, whether on appeal or otherwise.

(2) When the previous question is ordered on any debatable question on which there has been no debate, the question may be debated for one-half hour, one half of such time to be given to the proponents and one half to the opponents.

5-7. A call of the house is not in order after the previous question is ordered, unless it appears upon an actual count by the presiding officer that a quorum is not present.

5-8. The following motions are not debatable:

- (1) To adjourn
- (2) For a call of the house
- (3) To recess
- (4) For parliamentary inquiry
- (5) For suspension of the rules

- (6) To lay on the table
- (7) For the previous question
- (8) To limit, extend the limits of, or to close debate
- (9) To amend an undebatable motion
- (10) To divide a question
- (11) To pass business in committee of the whole
- (12) To take from the table

(13) A decision of the presiding officer, unless appealed or unless he submits the question to the house for advice or decision.

(14) All incidental motions, such as motions relating to voting or other questions of a general procedural nature.

5-9. A member may move to divide a question if it includes two or more propositions so distinct in substance that if one thing is taken away a substantive question will remain.

5-10. An amendment to a motion may be amended, but an amendment to an amendment to a motion may not be amended. However, a substitute for an amendment to an amendment to a motion may be adopted and the substitute may be amended.

CHAPTER 6

Bills and Resolutions

A.—Form of Bills—Definition of Resolutions—General Provisions

6-1. The only types of instruments other than bills which may be introduced in either house of the legislative assembly are:

(1) A simple resolution, which is a formalized motion passed by one house only and which bears the heading "House Resolution" or "Senate Resolution." It may be used to amend the rules of the house adopting it. It does not require three readings or a roll call vote. A member offering a simple resolution may read it in his place before sending it to the chair. It shall then be read by the clerk or secretary unless otherwise ordered by the house, and referred to a committee. Final action shall be taken on the Committee of the Whole report. The transmittal of copies of simple resolutions is the responsibility of the chief clerk or secretary of the house of origin.

(2) A joint resolution, [which] must be adopted by both houses and shall not be approved by the governor [and then signed by the governor as a ministerial formality.] It may be used to express the desire, opinion, sympathy or request of the legislative assembly, to amend the joint rules, and to ratify or propose amendments to the United States Constitution. A joint resolution shall also be used to propose amendments to the Constitution of Montana, which shall be considered as provided in Article XIV, Section 8 of the Montana Constitution. If a joint resolution goes beyond a mere recommendation or expression of opinion, [and] or does not relate to a subject solely within the competence of the legislative assembly, it is subject to veto by the governor. Except as otherwise provided in these rules or the Constitution of the State of Montana, a joint resolution is treated in all respects as a bill.

(3) All resolutions directing studies be done by the Legislative Council shall contain a preamble to be known as a declaration of the author's specific intent. These resolutions shall be reviewed by the Council staff for style and format in the same manner as a bill.

6-2. Bills shall be typewritten on paper eight and one-half by [thirteen] eleven inches with [30] 25 numbered lines, and shall be introduced in quadruplicate. Pica [or elite]-type and a good black ribbon must be used. Bills shall be numbered at the foot of each page and shall have white covers of a substantial material. In sections amending existing statutes, matter to be stricken out shall be indicated with a line through the words or part to be deleted, and new matter shall be underlined. A key showing the numbers of sections of the most recent Revised Codes of Montana repealed or amended in a bill shall immediately precede the title. Introduced bills will be introduced on white paper and distributed to legislators.

6-3. No bill, except general appropriation bills, and bills for the codification and general revision of the laws, shall contain more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in the title. The enacting clause of every law shall be as follows: "Be it enacted by the legislative assembly of the State of Montana." [(Montana Constitution, Art. V. Sec. 23 and Art. V, Sec. 20)]

6-4. The general appropriation bills shall embrace nothing but appropriations for the ordinary expenses of the legislative, executive and judicial departments of the state, interest on public debt and for public schools. All other appropriations shall be made by separate bills, each embracing but one subject. (Montana Constitution, Art. V, Sec. [33] 11 (4).

6-5. Every statute, unless a different time is prescribed therein, takes effect on the first day of July of the year of its passage and approval. Every joint resolution, unless a different time is prescribed therein, takes effect from its passage. (Section 43-507 and 43-509, R.C.M. 1947)
B—Introduction

6-6. Bills will be checked by the staff of the Legislative Services Division of the Legislative Council prior to consideration by a committee of the legislature, for proper format, style, and legal form. A stamp will be affixed to the bill cover and initialed indicating this review. If such stamp is not affixed at the time the bill is delivered to the appropriate committee chairman, the chairman shall cause the bill to be transmitted to the Legislative Services Division for such review. Members should make every effort to present proposed bills to the Division in advance of introduction of the bill. Bills will be entered on the automated bill drafting equipment and typed to facilitate a more rapid reproduction. If a bill is not so entered prior to introduction, it will not be considered by any committee until it has been so entered.

A bill may be introduced by endorsing it with the name of a member or committee and presenting it to the chief clerk or secretary in quadruplicate. Bills, joint resolutions, and simple resolutions shall be numbered consecutively in each session in separate series in the order of their receipt.

Bills may be pre-filed, numbered and pre-printed prior to a legislative session. This will be the responsibility of the staff of the Legislative Services Division of the Legislative Council. Actual signatures may appear on the face of the pre-filed bill or signatures may be obtained on a consent form from the Legislative Services Division. Additional sponsors may be added at the time of introduction on the first legislative day, on motion of the chief sponsor. These names will be forwarded to the Legislative Services Division to be included on the face of the bill following standing committee approval.

6-7. [All bills except revenue bills, appropriation bills and substitute bills must be received by the chief clerk or the secretary by 5 p.m. of the eighteenth legislative day. Revenue bills must be received by the chief clerk by 5 p.m. of the twenty-fifth day.]

During the first session of any Legislative Assembly bills may be introduced at any time before final adjournment of the session. No bill, however, introduced after 5 p.m. on the eighteenth legislative day of the first session, except revenue bills, appropriation bills and substitute bills will be considered, save in committee, during that session by the house in which it was introduced, without the consent of that house, or, if so considered and transmitted to the other house, by that house without the consent thereof. To be considered during the first session revenue bills must be introduced by 5 p.m. on the twenty-fifth legislative day. Bills not considered and acted upon during the first session shall carry over with the same status to any other session of the legislature during the biennium, and shall be then considered and acted upon. During any session during the biennium other than the first session, all bills except revenue bills, appropriation bills and substitute bills must be introduced by 5 p.m. of the fifth legislative day following the Governor's initial message to the Legislature. Revenue bills at such sessions following the first session of the biennium must be introduced by 5 p.m. of the tenth legislative day following such passage.

[6-8. No bill for the appropriation of money, except for expenses of the government, shall be introduced within ten days of the close of the session, except by unanimous consent of the house in which it is sought to be introduced. (Montana Constitution, Art. V. Sec. 21)] (to be deleted 7-1-73)

[6-9. All bills appropriating public moneys shall originate in the House of Representatives. A member of the Senate desiring the introduction of a bill carrying an appropriation may transmit it to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, who will provide for its introduction by request.]

[6-10. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives, but the Senate may propose amendments, as in the case of other bills. (Montana Constitution, Art. V. Sec. 32)] (to be deleted 7-1-73)

[6-11. No bill may be introduced or received in a house after that house has finally rejected a bill designed to accomplish the same purpose.]

6-8. During either regular session, no bill may be introduced or received in a house after that house has finally rejected a bill during that biennium designed to accomplish the same purpose save upon approval by the rules committee of the house in which the bill is offered for introduction or reception, nor may any such bill be introduced or received in a house at any special session convened within six months following the final adjournment of the regular or special session in which the bill designed to accomplish the same purpose was finally rejected, unless an emergency exists which in the opinion of the governor or of the members requesting a special session requires the introduction or reception of such bill, and the existence of the emergency and such opinion is set forth in the governor's call or the members' request for a special session.

[6-12.] 6-9. A committee must unanimously consent to the introduction of a committee bill.

C.—First Reading and Commitment.

[6-13.] 6-10. The purpose of the first reading of bills is for information and commitment. A bill shall be read by a summary of its title in the house of origin and by a summary of its title and by its history in the second house.] No motion affecting a bill is in order on its first reading except as provided in Joint Rule 6-6.

Upon introduction or reception of a bill, the chief clerk of the House or the secretary of the Senate shall publicly post upon a listing that bill by a summary of its title in the house of origin and by a summary of its title and by its history in the second house, together with a notation of the committee to which it has been assigned, and such posting shall constitute the first reading of the bill. (Effective 7-1-73)

[6-14.] 6-11. No bill shall be considered or become a law unless referred to a committee, and returned therefrom. [and printed for the use of the members. (Montana Constitution, Art. V. Sec. 22.)] (Deletions effective 7-1-73)

[6-15.] 6-12. [After the first reading] Upon introduction or reception of a bill, it shall be referred to a committee by the presiding officer. (Effective 7-1-73)

[6-16.] 6-13. A bill may be recommitted at any time before its passage.

D.—Amendments and Substitute Bills

[6-17.] 6-14. No law shall be revised or amended, or the provisions thereof extended by reference to its title only, but so much thereof as is revised, amended or extended shall be re-enacted and published at length. [Montana Constitution, Art. V, Sec. 25)]

[6-18.] 6-15. No law shall be passed except by bill, and no bill shall be so altered or amended on its passage through either house as to change its original purpose. (Montana Constitution, Art. V, Sec. [10] 11(1))

[6-19.] 6-16. A committee may recommend that every clause in a bill be changed and that entirely new matter be substituted so long as the new matter is relevant to the title and subject of the bill. A substitute bill shall be considered as an amendment and not as a new bill.

[6-20.] 6-17. The proper form of reporting a substitute bill by a committee is to propose amendments to strike out all of the bill following the enacting clause and to substitute the new bill, recommending also any necessary changes in the title. If a committee report recommending a substitute for a bill originating in the other house is adopted, the substitute bill shall be printed.

[6-21.] 6-18. Amendments to a bill by the second house shall not be further amended by the house in which the bill originated, but must either be accepted or rejected. If the amendments are rejected, a conference committee may be requested by the house in which the bill originated.

[6-22.] 6-19. If a majority of a house recommends the passage of a bill originating in that house after it has been returned from a committee, not less than six hundred copies of the bill shall be printed on canary paper with all amendments incorporated into the printed copies. Bills referred to the bills committee of the house of origin for printing must be reported within three days unless further time is granted by that house.

[6-23.] 6-20. When a bill has been reported favorably by committee of the whole of the house of origin and the report has been adopted, the bill shall be engrossed under the direction of the bills committee, and when reported correctly engrossed by the committee shall be placed on the calendar for third reading on the succeeding legislative day. Committee of the whole amendments shall be included in the engrossed bill. Copies of the engrossed bill to be distributed to legislators will be reproduced on blue paper. If a bill is unamended, contains no clerical errors, and is neatly written, it may be engrossed without retyping.

[6-24.] 6-21. When a bill has passed both houses it shall be enrolled by the Legislative Services Division of the Legislative Council as an act of the legislative assembly under the direction of the bills committee of the house of origin. An original and three duplicate typewritten copies of the bill shall be enrolled, free from all corrections and errors, with a margin of two inches at the top and one inch on each side, with [thirty] Twenty-five unnumbered lines to the page. In sections amending existing statutes new matter shall be underlined, and matter stricken with a line through it shall be omitted. The typewriting shall be done with a black record ribbon, pica [or elite] type, on [plain linen finished paper or fifty percent rag bond] paper 8½ inches wide and [13] 11 inches long. [weighing sixteen pounds to the ream.] The original and [first copy] two copies only of the bill shall be red lined. The history of the bill shall also be enrolled and placed in back of the bill in a white manuscript cover, upon which is written the number of the bill.

When the enrolling has been completed, the bill shall be examined by the author and the bills committee and reported correctly enrolled. The original and [one copy] two copies shall be signed by the presiding officer of each house [in open session] and presented by the bills committee to the governor. The bills committee shall take a receipt from the governor and shall report to the house the day and hour of such presentation, which shall be entered in the journal. The original and [two unsigned copies] the unsigned copy shall be filed with the secretary of state. [The signed copy shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court.] Signed copies with chapter numbers assigned, pursuant to Section 82-2209, shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court and the Legislative Services Division of the Legislative Council. (Deletion of "in open session" effective 7-1-73)

F.—Second Reading—Committee of the Whole

[6-25.] 6-22. All bills which have been reported by a committee, accepted by the house concerned and printed, shall be posted on the calendar for consideration by committee of the whole. Until the forty-eighth legislative day, one day must elapse between the time a committee approved bill is printed and consideration by committee of the whole. Bills shall be arranged on the calendar in the order in which they are reported unless otherwise ordered by the house concerned.

[6-26.] 6-23. Every bill considered in committee of the whole shall be read by a summary of its title and by its history and considered section by section.

[6-27.] 6-24. Prior to adoption of a committee of the whole report, a member may move to segregate a bill. If the motion prevails, the bill remains on second reading.

[6-28.] 6-25. When a committee of the whole report on a bill is rejected the bill shall remain on second reading.

[6-29.] 6-26. Either house may resolve itself in to a committee of the whole by approval of a motion for that purpose. So far as may be applicable, the rules governing each house shall be observed when that house resolves itself into a committee of the whole, except as follows:

(1) The only motions in order are: to amend, to recommend passage or non-passage; to recommend concurrence or non-concurrence; to indefinitely postpone; to pass consideration; to rise; to rise and report; and to rise and report progress and ask leave to sit again.

[[2.) A record vote may not be ordered.]

[[3)] (2) The committee may not appoint subcommittees.

[[4)] (3) The committee may not punish its members for misconduct, but may report disorder to the house concerned.

[[5)] (4) Unless otherwise prescribed by either house before going into committee of the whole, a member may speak as often as he is recognized and for as long each time as is allowed in debate in the particular house.

[6-30.] 6-27. After a committee of the whole has been formed, the presiding officer shall appoint a chairman to preside. Upon resuming the chair, the presiding officer shall receive the report of the chairman of the committee and the house shall take action on the report.

G.—Third Reading—Governor's Veto

[6-31.] 6-28. No bill shall become a law except by vote of a majority of all the members present in each house, nor unless on its final passage the vote be taken by ayes and noes, and the names of those voting be entered on the journal. (Montana Constitution, Art. V, Sec. [24]) 11(1) and (2)

[6-32.] 6-29. Every bill shall be read three times prior to passage, either by title or by summary of title as provided in these rules. The first reading shall be [prior to commitment] as prescribed in Joint Rule 6-10; the second prior to debate in committee of the whole; and the third, which shall be by complete title prior to final passage. No bill shall receive more than one reading on the same day except on the last legislative day. (Amendment effective 7-1-73)

[6-33.] Every order, resolution or vote, in which the concurrence of both houses may be necessary, except on the question of adjournment, or relating solely to the transaction of the business of the two houses, shall be presented to the governor, and before it shall take effect be approved by him, or, being disapproved, be repassed by two thirds of both houses, as prescribed in the case of a bill. (Montana Constitution, Art. V, Sec. 40.)] (Deletions effective 7-1-73)

[6-34. Every bill passed by the legislative assembly shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor. If he approves, he shall sign it, and thereupon it shall become a law, but if he does not approve, he shall return it with his objections to the house in which it originated, which house shall enter the objections at large upon its journal and proceed to reconsider the bill. If then two thirds of the members present agree to pass the same, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, but which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of the members present in that house it shall become a law notwithstanding the objections of the governor. In all such cases the vote of each house shall be determined by ayes and nays, to be entered on the days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislative assembly shall by their adjournment prevent its return, in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the legislative assembly, unless approved by the governor within fifteen days after such adjournment. In case the governor shall fail to approve of any bill after the final adjournment of the legislative assembly it shall be filed, with his objections, in the office of the secretary of state. (Montana Constitution, Art. VII, Sec. 12)] (Deletions effective 7-1-73)

[6-35.] The governor shall have power to disapprove of any item or items of any bill making appropriations of money, embracing distinct items, and the part or parts approved shall become a law, and the items or items disapproved shall be void, unless enacted in the manner following: If the legislative assembly be in session he shall within five days transmit to the house in which the bill originated, a copy of the item or items thereof disapproved, together with his objections thereto, and the items objected to shall be separately reconsidered, and each item shall then take the same course as is prescribed for the passage of bills over the executive veto. (Montana Constitution, Art. VII, Sec. 13)] Deletions effective 7-1-73)

6-30. (1) Each bill passed by the legislature, except bills proposing amendments to the Montana Constitution, bills ratifying proposed amendments to the United States Constitution, resolutions, and initiative and referendum measures, shall be submitted to the governor for his signature. If he does not sign or veto the bill within five days after its delivery to him if the legislature is in session or within 25 days if the legislature is adjourned, it shall become law. The governor shall return a vetoed bill to the legislature with a statement of his reasons therefor.

(2) The governor may return any bill to the legislature with his recommendation for amendment. If the legislature passes the bill in accordance with the governor's recommendation, it shall again return the bill to the governor for his reconsideration. The governor shall not return a bill for amendment a second time.

(3) If after receipt of a veto message, two-thirds of the members present approve the bill, it shall become law.

(4) If the legislature is not in session when the governor vetoes a bill, he shall return the bill with his reasons therefor to the legislature as provided by law. The legislature may reconvene to reconsider any bill so vetoed.

(5) The governor may veto items in appropriation bills, and in such instances the procedure shall be the same as upon veto of an entire bill. (Montana Constitution, Art. VI, Sec. 10) (New Rule 6-30 in its entirety effective 7-1-73)

H.—Transmittal of Bills

[6-36.] 6-31. Each house shall transmit to the other with any bill all relevant papers. When a House bill is transmitted from the House of Representatives to the Senate, the secretary of the Senate shall give a dated receipt for the bill to the chief clerk of the House. When a Senate bill is transmitted to the House of Representatives, the chief clerk of the House shall give a dated receipt to the secretary of the Senate.

[6-37. Except for appropriation bills, revenue bills and amendments considered by joint conference committees, no bills may be transmitted from one house to the other after the fortieth legislative day, and no amendments, except to appropriation bills and revenue bills, may be transmitted from one house to the other after the fifty-third day.]

6-32. During the first session of any Legislative Assembly no bills, except for appropriation bills, revenue bills and amendments considered by joint committee need be acted upon (save for reference to a committee by the presiding officer) if transmitted from one house to the other after the fortieth legislative day, but may be held pending in the house to which it is transmitted, and, if so held, it shall be acted upon at a subsequent session during the biennium. Amendments, except to appropriation bills and revenue bills, may likewise be deferred for consideration if transmitted during the first session and after the fifty-third legislative day thereof. At the second regular session of any Legislative Assembly no bills may be transmitted, other than appropriation bills, revenue bills and amendments considered by joint committee, after the fortieth legislative day; and no amendments, except to appropriation bills and revenue bills may be transmitted from one house to the other after the fifty-third legislative day.

[6-38.] 6-33. When a bill has received its third reading or has been rejected, the house that considered the bill shall immediately transmit it to the other house with notice of its action.

I.—Fiscal Notes on Bills

[6-39.] 6-34. All bills reported out of a committee of the legislative assembly having an effect on the revenues, expenditures, or fiscal liability of the state, except appropriation measures carrying specific dollar amounts, shall include a fiscal note incorporating an estimate of such effect. Fiscal notes shall be requested by the chief sponsor through the presiding officer of either house, who shall determine the need for the note at the time of introduction.

The state budget director, in cooperation with the agency or agencies affected by the bill, is responsible for the preparation of the fiscal note and shall return same within six (6) days.

A completed fiscal note shall be submitted by the budget director to the presiding officer who requested it, who shall refer it to the committee considering the bill. All fiscal notes shall be printed and placed on the members' desks.

Fiscal notes shall, where possible, show in dollar amounts the estimated increase or decrease in revenues or expenditures, costs which may be absorbed without additional funds, and long-range financial implications. No comment or opinion relative to merits of the bill shall be included; however, technical or mechanical defects may be noted.

A fiscal note also may be requested on a bill [before the thirty-sixth day,] and on an amendment [before the forty-ninth day,] by

(1) A committee considering the bill, or

(2) A majority of the members of the house in which the bill is to be considered, at the time of second reading.

The budget director shall make available on request to any member of the legislative assembly all background information used in developing a fiscal note. (Section 43-1001 through 43-1006, R.C.M. 1947)

CHAPTER 7

Committees

7-1. The committee on legislative administration of each house shall consider all matters concerned with seating, mileage and per diem, legislative employees, the control of legislative property, and the budgeting for and expenditure of appropriations for the operation of the legislative assembly, in cooperation with the business manager.

7-2. A standing committee shall submit a written report in triplicate on all bills or matters referred to it within 7 days after reference, unless at the request of the committee and for good cause shown, further time is granted by the house concerned.

7-3. If the members of a committee cannot agree on a report, the majority and minority of the committee present at a committee meeting may submit separate reports. Only one minority report may be submitted. Such reports shall be entered at length on the journal, unless otherwise ordered by the house concerned.

7-4. All committees shall keep minutes of their meetings and, at the close of the session, shall turn the minutes over to the chief clerk of the House or secretary of the Senate for delivery to the Historical Society.

7-5. The committee on [rules] bills and journal, the rules committee, [the journal committee, the bills committee,] and conference committees may report at any time, except during a call of the house or when a vote is being taken. Reports from the bills and journal committee shall stand approved without formal action.

7-6. All bills providing for an appropriation of public moneys shall first be considered by a joint committee composed of the finance and claims committee of the Senate, and [the appropriations committee of] the House, and then by each separately. Meetings of the joint committee shall be held upon call of the chairman of the House finance and claims committee who shall be chairman of the joint committee.

7-7. Except as provided in Joint Rule 7-6, the chairman of the Senate committee shall be chairman of all joint committees.

7-8. If either house requests a conference and appoints a committee for the purpose of discussing an amendment on which the Senate and the House of Representatives cannot agree, the other house shall appoint a committee consisting of the same number of members. They shall meet at a convenient time, to be agreed upon by their chairmen, and having conferred, shall report to their respective houses the result of their conference. A conference committee shall confine itself to the disputed amendment.

If either house requests a free conference committee and the other house concurs, appointments will be made the same as above. A free conference committee may discuss a bill in its entirety and is not confined to a particular amendment.

7-9. In joint committees other than conference committees, members vote individually and not by houses. Because conference committees are joint meetings of separate committees, in conference committees the committees from each house vote separately, and a majority of each committee must agree before any action may be taken.

(Material in brackets denotes cancelled type.)

CHAPTER 8

Rules and Journal

8-1. Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and may, in its discretion, from time to time, publish the same, [except such parts as require secrecy] and the ayes and noes on any question shall, at the request of any two members, be entered on the journal. [(Montana Constitution, Art. V, Sec. 12)]

8-2. The proceedings of each house which shall be entered on its journal include:

(1) The title and number of each bill when it is introduced: subsequent references may be by number only.

(2) Every motion and the name of the member making it.

(3) Proposed constitutional amendments which have been voted for by two-thirds of the members. (Montana Constitution, Art. XIX, Sec. 9)

(4) Committee reports.

(5) Roll Call votes.

(6) Messages from the governor and the other house.

(7) An entry of the oath taken by the members. (Sec. 43-209, R.C.M. 1947)

8-3. The bills and journal committee [or committees on rules and journal] of each house shall supply the director of the Legislative Services Division of the Legislative Council with the contents of the daily journal to be programmed on automated equipment, examine its journal, distribute a daily journal to all legislators, correct any errors, and report each legislative day immediately after roll call.

8-4. The journal of the Senate must be authenticated by the signature:

of the president, and the journal of the House of Representatives by the signature of the speaker. The distribution of the completed journals shall be made by the Legislative Services Division of the Legislative Council. (Sec. 43-304, R.C.M. 1947)

8-5. (1) A joint rule may be repealed or amended only with the concurrence of both houses, under the procedures adopted by each house for the repeal or amendment of its own rules. (2) a joint rule governing the procedure for handling bills may be temporarily suspended by the consent of two-thirds of the members of either house, insofar as it applies to the house suspending it.

8-6. Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure governs the proceedings of the Senate and House of Representatives in all cases not covered by these rules.

8-7. The legislative council shall codify and publish in one volume the rules of the Senate, the rules of the House of Representatives and the joint rules of the Senate and the House of Representatives. Upon adoption, the secretary of the Senate and the chief clerk of the House of Representatives shall provide the office of the legislative council with one copy of all motions or resolutions amending Senate, House or joint rules, and with copies of all minutes and reports of the rules committees [or committee on rules and journal relating to rules.] After the rules have been published, the legislative council shall distribute copies as directed by the Senate and House of Representatives.

CHAPTER 9

Voting Procedures

9-1. Except as provided in Joint Rule 9-2, every member present when a question is put shall vote unless the house of which he is a member excuses him.

9-2. A member who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill proposed or pending before the legislative assembly, shall disclose the fact to the house of which he is a member, and shall not vote thereon. [(Montana Constitution, Art. V, Sec. 44)]

[9-3. Amendments to the constitution may be proposed in either house, a two-thirds vote of the members elected to each house is required for passage. (Montana Constitution, Art. XIX, Sec. 9)] (Deletions effective 7-1-73)

9-3. Amendments to the constitution may be proposed by any member of the legislature. If adopted by an affirmative roll call vote of two-thirds of all the members of the legislature, the amendment shall be deemed approved by the legislature. (Montana Constitution, Art. XIV, Sec. 8). (Effective 7-1-73)

9-4. When a measure requiring the concurrence of two-thirds of the members is under consideration, a majority vote is sufficient to decide any question relating to the measure short of third reading.

9-5. A roll call vote shall be taken on the request of two members.

9-6. On a roll call vote the names of the members shall be called alphabetically, unless an electrical voting system is used. A member may not vote or change his vote after the decision is announced from the chair. A member may not explain his vote until after the decision is announced from the chair.

9-7. (1) On third reading the question shall be stated as follows:

"Senate (or House) bill number ..... having been read three several times, the question is, shall the bill pass (or be concurred in)."

(2) If an electrical voting system is used the presiding officer shall ring the bell after stating the question and then state "Those in favor vote yea and those opposed vote no." After a reasonable pause the presiding officer asks "Has every member voted?" (reasonable pause) "Does any member wish to change his or her vote?" (reasonable pause) "The clerk (secretary) will now record the vote."

9-8. Two members may pair on a measure that will be determined by a majority vote. On a measure requiring a two-thirds vote for adoption three members may pair, with two members for the measure and one member against. Pairing is permitted only when one of the paired members is absent when the vote is taken.

9-9. An agreement to pair must be in writing and dated and signed by the members agreeing to be bound, and must specify the duration of the pair. When an agreement to pair is filed with the secretary of the Senate or chief clerk of the House of Representatives, it shall bind the members signing until the expiration of time for which it was signed, unless the paired members sooner appear and ask that the agreement be cancelled.

9-10. Every vote of each member of the legislature on each substantive question in the legislature, in any committee, or in committee of the whole shall be recorded and made public. On final passage of any bill or joint resolution the vote shall be taken by ayes and noes and the names entered on the journal. A roll call vote shall be taken on on-substantive questions on the request of two members, who may likewise on any vote, request that the ayes and noes be spread upon the journal. Roll call votes and other votes which are to be made public but are not specifically required to be spread upon the journal shall be entered in the minutes of the appropriate committee or of the appropriate house and a copy of such minutes shall be filed with the Montana State Historical Society. (Montana Constitution, Art. V, Sec. 11(2))

(Material in brackets denotes cancelled type.)

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Kvaalen moved that the Speaker be authorized to appoint a committee of five to notify the Governor that the House of Representatives is now organized and ready for business. Motion failed.

Fasbender moved that a Necrology Committee be appointed. Motion passed. The Speaker appointed the following committee: Zimmer, Menahan, Baucus, Hager and Brown.

Fasbender moved that Rules be suspended and place Senate Bill No. 1 on Second Reading this day. Motion carried.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

Following is the Supplement to Executive Budget, 1973-1975, submitted by Thomas L. Judge, Governor:

The following amendments to the executive budget represent the priorities and policies of my administration.

I have enumerated specific programs and the costs which can be funded under the revenue structure of the Executive Budget with the exception of proposed increases in the School Foundation Program.

This budget is based on the reduction of the Income Tax Surcharge from 40 to 10 percent—a saving to Montana taxpayers of 34 million in the next two years. And I strongly urge the Legislature to maintain the surcharge at the 10 per cent level.

MEDICAID

I recommend that medical, hospital and nursing home care under Medicaid be extended to an additional 15,000 needy Montanans. Presently, only those people on welfare qualify for Medicaid and this acts as an incentive to remain on the general assistance rolls. Expansion of Medicaid coverage will provide necessary medical assistance for many senior citizens and children.

The total cost of this program to the state will be $2 million, which will result in a addition $6 million in federal funds for the biennium to provide local property tax relief of $430,000. I propose to finance the extension of Medicaid coverage with $270,000 from the General Fund and the $1.75 million Montana will save by transferring the adult categories of welfare to the federal government under HR 1.

KINDERGARTENS

Today, 38 states provide funding for kindergarten programs. Statistics demonstrate that about one-half of all growth in intelligence occurs between birth and the age of four, and that more than half of the remaining development occurs before the age of nine. If a child's intellectual growth is stifled before the age of six, his chances of success in the educational system are seriously impaired.

I propose that sufficient funds be appropriated to initiate a regular kindergarten program comprised of at least 180 half-days each year, providing an estimated 12,000 five-year-old children with the enrichment opportunities afforded by such instruction.

A good kindergarten program for Montana can be funded with a $2 million appropriation.

Specific legislation to implement this program will be presented for your consideration.

DAY CARE CENTERS

Children should be provided adequate day care to give mothers the opportunity to work if they choose. I propose the appropriation of state funds for day care centers. The state portion would be matched with 75 per cent federal, and 10 per cent local funds to expand day care programs in Montana. I request $200,000 in state funds for this purpose.

ACCESS

The present budget of the Department of Fish and Game calls for $200,000 in earmarked funds to be matched on a 50-50 basis with federal money to acquire fishing access sites.

I propose an additional $300,000 in earmarked funds be allocated to acquire small game and fishing access areas. Matched with federal money this would provide Montana with a $1 million access program. This would be a 150 per cent increase in our efforts to acquire and develop access sites for Montana sportsmen. This will be financed with Fish and Game earmarked funds.

PUBLIC RECREATION

Currently there is $3.6 million in federal matching funds available to state and local government for acquisition of land and development facilities for public outdoor recreation purposes. In 1971 we utilized less than one-half of these funds.

In the past, the state parks operations and maintenance budget of the Department of Fish and Game has not been adequately funded. When this budget was eventually depleted, it was necessary to transfer funds that could have been matched with federal monies to operate and maintain state parks. This diversion has resulted in the substantial loss of federal matching funds for recreational development.

I propose to increase the budget of the Department of Fish and Game by $200,000 so that available matching funds will not be spent on operations and maintenance.

RESOURCES INDEMNITY TRUST FUND

The purpose of this levy is to provide a lasting benefit for Montanans for the extraction of our non-renewable resources—specifically coal, metal mines, oil and natural gas. A levy of one half of one percent would be assessed against the gross value of production of these resources. The proceeds would go into a trust fund. The interest would be available for immediate problems and the principal would be held to solve problems and provide opportunities when the resources was ultimately depleted. The indemnity fund would raise $1 million per year. Conservatively invested, it would produce interest earnings of approximately $50,000 annually.

COAL TASK FORCE

The budget provides for an increase in staff for the Coal Task Force, which is vital to assess the effects of strip mining on Eastern Montana.

COAL TAX

I propose that we increase the tax on coal extracted in Montana by 10¢ per category. This will produce $4 million in revenue for the general fund in the next biennium.

OFFICE OF GOVERNMENT OPERATIONS

The Executive Reorganization Program—approved by the people and authorized by the Legislature—has made the most significant contribution to the operation of state government in more than fifty years. Executive Reorganization is a continuing process, however, and it cannot be relegated to the status of a periodic review of government.

I propose an Office of Government Operations which would have the ability to detect functional deficiencies, evaluate government organization and operation, insure that legislative audit recommendations are carried out and provide research and planning support for the Governor.

This office will replace the current Executive Reorganization office. This program can be financed with approximately $70,000 from the general fund and $140,000 in available federal monies. I believe the Office of Government Operations is necessary to assure continued economy and efficiency in state government.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE

Last year for the first time, the Department of Revenue audited out-of-state corporations doing business in Montana. The audits resulted in substantial revenue collections from out-of-state corporations. This program is a good investment to assure that these businesses pay their fair share of Montana taxes. I propose to increase the field audit staff by two at a cost of $60,000.

I propose that the Department provide supplemental services to all agencies who cannot collect accounts receivable. This service would cost $130,000; however, the state would get this back several times.

LONG RANGE BUILDING PROGRAM

The $11 million Long Range Building Program for the next biennium will be financed on a cash basis. This action will save the state approximately $1 million per year in interest payments. The program has gradually been converted from 30-year bonds to a pay-as-you-go basis. Certainly, ten or twenty year bonds are acceptable in certain instances. A continuing program such as long range building, however, should be carried out on a cash basis if at all possible.

FEDERAL-STATE COORDINATOR'S OFFICE

I recommend enactment of a budget for the office of the Federal-State Coordinator calling for increases from the present level of $55,000 a year to approximately $76,000 in the next fiscal year and, $79,000 in fiscal 1975.

Montana is heavily dependent on federal financial support.

According to the Congressional Quarterly, Montana received $195 per capita in Federal Government grants in 1970. Only three states and the District of Columbia received more assistance.

It is evident that without the assistance of the Office of the Federal-State Coordinator, working closely with members of Montana's Congressional delegation, we would not have received mitigation for game losses resulting from the construction of Libby Dam, or assurances for construction of the fish hatchery at the site, or assumption by the federal government of responsibility for compensation of workers, businesses and others affected by the termination of the ABM construction program, or the initiation of educational, industrial and other programs at Glasgow Air Force Base.

Also, creation of the Old West Regional Commission would not have been possible without an active and viable Federal-State Coordinator's Office.

I propose that the office will have expanded duties in the future, including a more aggressive program to identify and secure necessary federal aid programs for state and local government and education and to protect Montana's interest in the federal system.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT TAXATION STUDY

I urge the Legislature to consider an appropriation of $50,000 to the Department of Revenue to conduct a comprehensive analysis of the local property tax structure. This study could be the basis for recommendations to reduce and reform property taxation.

OFFICE OF THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

The new Constitution requires the Lieutenant Governor to be a full-time member of the executive branch of state government. I recommend a biennial budget of $70,000 for salary, expenses and a secretary for the Lieutenant Governor. His duties would include serving as a citizen's advocate and special assignments delegated by the Governor, such as maintaining a close liaison with the coal development in Eastern Montana.

HIGHWAY SAFETY

In the year just ended, a record number of Montanans were killed in traffic accidents. This carnage—the tragic loss of life, crippling injuries and property damage—must be reduced. The executive budget provides for an additional 25 Highway Patrolmen and equipment. I strongly urge your support of this proposal.

I also call your attention to proposed legislation which would substitute an optional defensive driving course for the present practice of suspending driving privileges. I endorse the one-year pilot program proposed by the Department of Intergovernmental Relations. It would be funded by the federal government. The goal of the program is to create and reinforce safe driving practices among consistent violators and new drivers.

I urge your favorable consideration of the request of the Department of Health and Environmental Sciences for a Coordinator of Emergency Medical Services. I also assure you that I will continue the effort to obtain federal assistance to improve emergency medical treatment and facilities for Montana communities.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

The budget includes a request to increase the staff of the Division of Planning and Economic Development by adding two specialists to assist state and local government in their economic development programs.

We must make a greater effort to create job opportunities for the unemployed and the young who are leaving the state and to provide an expanded tax base to support good schools and needed government services.

Montana can afford to be selective about the kinds of businesses that we attract.

Our wholesome environment and unlimited recreational advantages make Montana a highly desirable place to live and work. These qualities must not be sacrificed in our economic development program.

Tourism is Montana's third largest industry.

As a result of expanded promotional activities of the State Advertising Unit, tourist inquiries are up over 100% in the past four years.

Visitors who came to Montana last year as a direct result of national advertising spent $71 million dollars here. The state realized close to $500,000 in gasoline taxes alone from these visitors.

I propose a new program to attract out-of-state conventions and group tours to Montana.

Private business has indicated an interest in participating financially in this program.

Our promotional efforts could be enhanced by adding a professional writer to publicize our state in national media.

Our entire tourist promotion program must be redirected to promote Montana as a year-around playground, as opposed to efforts in the past which concentrated on bringing tourists to Montana only during the summer months.

This expanded effort will require an additional $150,000 per year from the Highway Trust Fund.

POST SECONDARY EDUCATION

I urge the Legislature to carefully review the budget for the University units, vo-tech schools, community colleges and the State Library Commission.

There is a great need to study the entire post secondary system of 14 units to determine our priorities and establish the level at which we can support post secondary schools and still maintain quality education.

Federal funds for a comprehensive study of post secondary education could be obtained under section 1202 of the amendments to Title XII of the Higher Education Act of 1965. I have proposed $150,000 in state matching funds to conduct this study.

WESTERN INTERSTATE COMMISSION ON HIGHER EDUCATION (W. I. C. H. E.)

Funds to enable Montana students to attend medical, dental and other professional schools in other states have been increased in the Executive Budget. I support this recommendation.

TWO-MILL LEVY

If this assembly accepts my budgetary and funding recommendations it will not be necessary to reimpose the emergency two-mill statewide property tax levy during the 1975 biennium. This would represent the first time in the history of the state that the emergency levy has not been imposed in four consecutive years. If successful, this would mean a total of $8 million in property tax relief in the 1973 and 1975 bienniums.

SCHOOL FOUNDATION PROGRAM

I urge this assembly to implement my recommendation that the Foundation Program schedules be increased five per cent each year of the next biennium.

The present executive budget for the next biennium already recommends an increase of $7.5 million to the Foundation Program. That figure represents full funding of the state's share of the program at the present schedules.

My recommendation would represent an additional $12.75 million to the program in the next two years.

Altogether, these proposals mean direct property tax relief amounting to $20.25 million.

This is the first time in the history of state government that a Governor has recommended an increased schedule for the Foundation Program and has also provided funding for that increase within the existing tax structure.

The School Foundation Program is fully funded under present schedules. It is fully funded under my prepared increases in schedules.

If this Legislature desires to go beyond this proposal, I strongly urge that you provide the revenue to fully fund any increase, to do otherwise will penalize the local property taxpayer.

Detailed schedules of my recommendations and the method of funding are attached.

FOURTH LEGISLATIVE DAY

SECOND READING OF BILLS (COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE)

Ageson in the Chair. Committee arose.

Mr. Speaker in the Chair.

Mr. Speaker: We, your Committee of the Whole, having had under consideration business on Second Reading, recommend as follows:

That House Bill No. 96 be passed to the bottom of the board.

That House Bill No. 174 do pass. (87-0)

That House Bill No. 198 do pass. (84-1)

That House Bill No. 238 be amended in the title, page 1, line 9 of the second reading bill by striking the following words and punctuation "[and repealing Section 50-813, R.C.M. 1947.]" and inserting in lieu thereof the following words and punctuation "and setting forth the public policy therefore.", and Further amend page 4, section 2, line 7 of the second reading bill by adding a new section 2 which reads as follows: "Section 2. There is a new section to be numbered 93-9902.1 which reads as follows: 93-9902.1. For the following reasons the state's power of eminent domain may not be exercised to mine and extract coal owned by the plaintiff located beneath the surface of property where the title to the surface is vested in others:

(1) because of the large reserves of and the renewed interest in coal in eastern Montana, coal development is potentially more destructive to land and watercourses and underground aquifers and potentially more extensive geographically than the foreseeable development of other ores, metals, or minerals, and affecting large areas of land and large numbers of people;

(2) that in many areas of Montana set forth in (a) hereinabove, the title to the surface is vested in an owner other than the mineral owner, and that the surface owner is putting that surface to a productive use, and it is the public policy of the state to encourage and foster such productive use by such owner, and that to permit the mineral owner to condemn the surface owner is to deprive the surface owner of the right to use his property in a productive manner as he determines, and is also contrary to public policy as set forth in paragraph four (4) herein below;

(3) the magnitude of the potential coal development in eastern Montana will subject landowners to undue harassment by excessive use of eminent domain;

(4) that it is the public policy of the state to encourage and foster diversity of land ownership and that the surface mining of coal and control of large areas of land by the surface coal mining industry would not foster public policy and further the public interest."

And, as amended, do pass. (88-4)

That House Bill No. 237 be passed to the bottom of the board.

That House Bill No. 239 do pass. (86-2)

That House Bill No. 275 do pass. (87-0)

That House Bill No. 301 do pass. (83-4)

That House Bill No. 312 do pass. (81-7)

That House Bill No. 329 do pass. (85-0)

That House Bill No. 347 do pass. (79-4)

That House Joint Resolution No. 24 do pass. (84-6)

That House Joint Resolution No. 12 do pass. (74-13)

That Senate Bill No. 75 be concurred in. (71-23)

That Senate Bill No. 148 be concurred in. (84-4)

That Senate Bill No. 170 be concurred in. (88-0)

That House Bill No. 96 be passed for the day.

That House Bill No. 237 be amended in section 1, page 1, line 25 of the second reading bill by striking the abbreviation "etc." and inserting in lieu thereof the words and punctuation ", any mining method or process in which the strata or overburden is removed or displaced in order to remove coal", (89-0)

An, as amended, be passed for the day.

WHEREAS, protection and preservation of the environment could be enhanced by the creation and maintenance of these areas into state parks and wilderness areas, and

WHEREAS, at the current time much of Montana's back country and high country is becoming increasingly congested with hikers, backpackers, and horseback riders, and

WHEREAS, the use of back country and high country is certain to increase rapidly, and

WHEREAS, other states are now finding their wilderness congested to the extent that even high lakes have become polluted, and

WHEREAS, wilderness is a great part of the heritage of Montanans and western man, and

WHEREAS, immediate planning action will help alleviate present problems of use of these areas and reduce future complications of these problems, and

WHEREAS, much prime land in Montana exists which could be traded, purchased or developed into large recreational and wilderness areas, and

WHEREAS, there are many small portions and parcels of land which could be purchased thereby opening up the gateway to thousands of acres of prime federal land, and

WHEREAS, at the current time no existing or firm policy prevails as to how the land could be developed, and how the various state agencies of Montana could jointly coordinate an effort into developing an overall land use pattern for recreational land, and

WHEREAS, within the composition of the legislature and existing state government much talent exists which could be utilized in the developing of a firm land use recreational policy for the state of Montana, and

WHEREAS, this type of decision-making body is vitally needed so that land currently in the unspoiled state can be preserved for future Montana generations, and

WHEREAS, the Snowy Mountain Range, located just south of Lewistown, Montana, and the Crazy Mountain Range, located north of Livingston, Montana, are of great beauty and are basically unspoiled, existing in their primitive state, and

WHEREAS, a great portion of the Snowy Mountain Range and the Crazy Mountain Range could be preserved for future generations in their current wild, scenic and natural atmosphere if immediate action is taken, and

WHEREAS, many landowners and ranchers in these areas are desirous of consolidating private land into private portions, and government or state land into similar contiguous portions, thereby eliminating the current checkerboard pattern of land use, and

WHEREAS, many current uses in these areas are detrimental to the fragile, alpine uses and need adequate control so that the wilderness areas can continue, and

WHEREAS, the drainages within these areas are clean, unpolluted streams and should remain in that condition,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

That the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President of the Senate each appoint a special subcommittee consisting of five (5) members who will be so instructed to work with a representative for the Department of Fish and Game, a representative for the Department of Natural Resources and Conservation, and a representative for the U. S. Forest Service, Region One, in the developing of a new policy for the creation of state wilderness and park lands, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the members of the special subcommittee appointed under this resolution be physically capable of participating in any on-the-site inspections of areas considered in the study, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this special subcommittee in the developing of the plan for acquisition and long-range planning for recreational and wilderness lands be so instructed to develop programs and methodology for funding an acquisition program, and programs and methodology for administration of the program, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the final program developed for the ultimate use of the land be of such nature that it will protect the private landowner from abuse by the public. Additionally, the final development must provide environmental, aesthetic and legitimate controls on the public areas which will allow wilderness conditions to continue in the areas, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Snowy Mountain Range, located just south of Lewistown, Montana, and the Crazy Mountain Range, located north of Livingston, Montana, be designated as pilot areas in the study generated by this joint resolution and, as such, that they receive priority in said study, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that if the lands lying adjacent to the drainages of the Snowy Mountain Range and the Crazy Mountain Range are to shift in ownership to the state, the water rights currently on these drainages shall remain in the ownership of those presently holding them, or that equal vested water rights be transferred, and that they be protected and remain unpolluted, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this special subcommittee and its members present a report to the legislature no later than January 5, 1976, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of this joint resolution be sent to the Secretary of State, to the members of the Fish and Game Commission, to the Montana Environmental Quality Council, to the Department of Natural Resources and Conservation, to the U. S. Forest Service, Region

SHELDEN, Chairman

Report adopted.

February 12, 1973

Mr. Speaker: We, your Committee on Natural Resources, having had under consideration House Bill No. 133, respectfully report as follows: That House Bill No. 133 be amended on page 1, line 5, in the title after the word "scenic" by adding ", natural", and

Further amend on page 1, line 6, in the title after the word "waterways" by adding ", setting forth procedures for future classification of state waterways and providing an effective date", and

Be amended by striking in its entirety all of the material following the enacting clause beginning on page 1, line 10 through page 9, line 22, and inserting in lieu thereof the following new material,

"Section 1. This act shall be known as "The Montana Wild, Scenic, Natural and Recreational Waterways Act of 1973." Rivers of Montana possess outstanding scenic, recreational, geological, fish and wildlife, botanical, historical, archaeological and other scientific and cultural values of great present and future benefit to the people. The state of Montana further finds that the unnecessary construction and development on many of the rivers of Montana need to be complemented by preservation of valuable selected rivers or sections thereof in their free-flowing, natural and scenic condition and protection of the general quality of the Montana environment. It is therefore policy of the legislative assembly to preserve and, if necessary, reclaim selected parts of Montana's diminishing resources of free-flowing, unpolluted rivers. It is the intent of this act to establish a Montana wild, scenic, natural and recreational waterways system by prescribing the procedures and criteria for inclusion of rivers in the system and for protecting and managing the system. It is not the intent of this act to require or to authorize acquisition of all lands or interest in lands within the exterior boundaries of the river areas; however, it is the intent to assure preservation of the scenic ecological and other values and to provide proper management of the recreational, wildlife, water and other resources by regulation of uses.

Acquisition of essential access sites from willing sellers is appropriate. The power of eminent domain shall not be used to acquire lands. It is the intention of this act that in all planning for the use and development of water and related land resources, consideration shall be given by all local, state and federal agencies involved to potential scenic river areas, and all river basin and project plan reports should discuss any such potential. Development and existing uses including, but not limited to, farming and ranching of lands within the system shall be encouraged to continue.

Section 2. As used in this act, unless the context requires otherwise:

- (1) "Commission" means the state fish and game commission.
- (2) "Director" means the director of the department of fish and game.
- (3) "River" means a flowing body of water or a section, or tributary thereof, including rivers, streams and creeks.
- (4) "Waterway" means a river or segment of a river and its related adjacent land designated as such in accordance with this act which has been made a part of the system.
- (5) "Free-flowing" as applied to a river or section of river, means existing or flowing in natural condition, without impoundment, diversion, straightening, or other man-made modification of the waterway. The existence, however, of low dams, diversion works, riprap, and other minor structures at the time any river is considered for classification does not automatically disqualify it as a free-flowing river.

(6) "Road" means a highway, a hard surfaced road or an improved dirt road. The existence, however, of unimproved roads at the time any river is proposed for inclusion in the waterways system shall not automatically bar its consideration for such inclusion. This meaning does not authorize or encourage future construction of such roads contrary to the provisions of this act.

(7) "Visual horizon" means the normal distance to which land and vegetative features can be unobstructively viewed from the river.

(8) "Access point" means an area along the river under public ownership available for public recreational use including, but not limited to, the launching of boats, picnicking and camping.

(9) "Exterior boundaries" means the distance defined by this act which will be under management.

(10) "System" means the Montana wild, scenic, natural and recreational waterways system, as defined by this act.

Section 3. The following types of rivers and adjacent areas are eligible for inclusion in the system as a waterway in which they will be administered in accordance with the following criteria:

(1) Wild river waterways comprise those free-flowing rivers or sections of rivers with shorelines and scenic vistas unchanged, or essentially unchanged, by man, with no extensive paralleling roads closer than one (1) mile (except in river gorges where there must be no extensive paralleling roads within the gorge or within one-quarter ( $\frac{1}{4}$ ) mile back from the gorge rim), and with only a limited number of crossing roads or spur roads existing at the time of designation as a state wild river waterway.

(2) Scenic river waterways comprise those free-flowing rivers or sections of rivers and the lands adjacent to which are partially or predominantly used for agriculture and other dispersed human activities which do not substantially interfere with public use and enjoyment of the rivers and their shores.

(3) Natural river waterways comprise those free-flowing rivers or sections of rivers lying predominantly on private lands existing at the present time in a state of harmony and stability with present agricultural, grazing and recreational use.

(4) Recreational river waterways comprise those free-flowing rivers or sections of rivers in areas affected by the works of man, including those in areas wherein there is a controlled high density of man-made structures and/or uses normally defined as that portion of the river bounded by the corporate limits of a city or municipality, but which still possess actual or potential scenic values. Included would be rivers with some housing or other building developments near their shorelines, rivers with parallel roads or railroads, and rivers with some impoundments.

Section 4. The director shall, within one (1) year after a river or segment of a river had been made a waterway of the system, unless provided otherwise by the legislative assembly, adopt a management plan for the area and determine the boundaries. Establishment of these boundaries shall be determined according to river waterway classification as follows:

(1) For wild river waterways, the boundary shall be the visual horizon, where practicable, not to exceed one (1) mile from the shoreline of the river, and shall extend at least one thousand (1,000) feet from the shoreline and shall include those other adjacent lands, the use of which materially affects or could affect the aesthetic or ecological quality of, or defile, the immediate environment or detract from the natural beauty of the area. Pending determination of the final boundaries, all lands within one thousand (1,000) feet of the shoreline shall constitute the particular waterway boundary and shall be administered accordingly.

(2) For scenic river waterways, the boundary shall be the visual horizon, where practicable, not to exceed five hundred (500) feet and not less than fifty (50) feet from the shoreline, and may also include those adjacent areas, the use of which materially affects or could affect the aesthetic or ecological quality of, or defile, the immediate environment or detract from the natural beauty of the waterway. Pending determination of the final boundaries as set out above, all lands within five hundred (500) feet of the shoreline at low water shall constitute the particular waterway boundary and shall be administered accordingly.

(3) For natural river waterways, the boundary shall extend five hundred (500) feet from the shoreline of the river. Additional scenic easements outside the above boundary may be acquired from willing sellers where appropriate. Lands necessary for access or camping may be acquired from willing sellers where such development does not affect the scenic quality or ecological stability of the area.

(4) For recreational river waterways, the boundary shall be the visual horizon, where practicable, and shall extend at least fifty (50) feet from the shoreline.

Section 5. In addition to the rivers and adjacent areas included from time to time as waterways by the legislative assembly in the system, the following river is designated a waterway to be administered under the provisions of this act, being classified by the criteria of section 3:

1. The Missouri River in Montana, as follows:

- (a) Fort Benton to Haystack Butte, as a recreational waterway
- (b) Haystack Butte to Deadman Rapids, as a wild waterway
- (c) Deadman Rapids to Holmes Rapids, as a recreational waterway
- (d) Holmes Rapids to Heller Bend, as a wild waterway
- (e) Heller Bend to Rocky Point Township, as a scenic waterway.

Section 6. The director shall study and, from time to time, submit to the legislative assembly proposals for additions to the system, of rivers and segments of rivers which, in his judgment, fall within one or more of the categories set forth which may include proposed management guidelines and boundaries. Each proposal shall specify the category of the proposed addition and shall be accompanied by a detailed report on the factors which make the area a worthy addition to the system. In preparation of such proposals, the director shall consult with interested citizen groups and other departments of the state of Montana which have jurisdiction or interests over rivers being considered.

Section 7. (1) The commission may adopt regulations and management plans governing the management of waterways in accordance with the objectives and guidelines stated in section 8 of this act and in harmony with compatible agricultural, forestry and other land uses after consultation with the department of natural resources and conservation, the department of health and environmental sciences, and the environmental quality council.

(2) The waterways systems shall be administered by the director according to the policies and guidelines set forth in this act, regulations promulgated by the commission, and management plans adopted for each river or segment of river in the system. Primary emphasis in the management of the waterway shall be given to maintaining the free-flowing character of the rivers and to preserving the ecological systems and the aesthetic, scenic, botanical, fish and wildlife, historic, scientific, and archaeological and recreational features, based upon the special characteristics of each waterway.

(3) The commission shall hold public hearings on all proposed management plans on rivers or segments of rivers prior to classification of designated waterways, and for changes in classifications of designated waterways.

(4) Hearings provided for in subsection three (3) of this section relating to designation or classification of waterways shall be held in the county or counties where the rivers or segments to be designated or classified are located. Notice of the hearing must be made one week for three (3) consecutive weeks in at least one (1) newspaper of general circulation in the county or counties where the waterways to be affected are located, the last publication of which shall be not less than ten (10) days prior to the date set for hearing. Additional notice by local radio and television stations shall be given where necessary to provide adequate public notice of the hearings.

(5) The director will provide for meetings with representatives of the department of natural resources and conservation, the department of health and environmental sciences, and the environmental quality council to collect and evaluate available information with respect to existing classification of waters for beneficial uses and water quality standards or regulations. The department of natural resources and conservation, the department of health and environmental sciences, and the environmental quality council shall provide technical assistance and support to the director and the commission to the extent practicable.

Section 8. The land uses to be allowed within the exterior boundaries of a waterway shall depend upon the classification of each respective area as set out below:

(1) In wild river waterways, travel on adjacent lands shall be limited to non-mechanized travel on trails. No new roads or buildings shall be constructed, and there shall be no mining or commercial timber harvest. Agricultural and related uses shall be allowed to continue. Expansion of agriculture uses shall be allowed, if consistent with the purposes of this act.

(2) In scenic river waterways, travel shall be limited to methods which do not detract from the purposes of this act. Waters shall be kept unpolluted. Lands within the exterior boundaries shall remain primarily in the type of use existing at the time of designation or would be allowed to revert to natural conditions. Continuation of present agricultural and related uses shall be allowed. Expansion of agricultural and related uses shall be allowed when this would not violate the purposes of the act. The construction of agricultural use buildings shall be permitted. There shall be no mining, commercial timber harvest or construction of roads paralleling the river.

(3) In natural river waterways, there shall be no subdivision that does not exist at the time of classification. Buildings other than those accommodating existing land uses shall be designed and constructed to conform to the existing surroundings. Continuation of agricultural and related uses shall be allowed. Expansion of agriculture and related uses shall be allowed. Mining and timber harvest shall be allowed under rules and regulations adopted under section 7 of this act.

(4) In recreational river waterways, all uses shall be permitted which do not alter substantially the streambanks, or free-flowing aspects of the river or segments of the river. These waterways shall be managed to prevent further loss of scenic or recreational values, to improve the scenic aspects of their surroundings, and to restore the quality of the waters.

Section 9. Whenever in the judgment of the director a river area previously administered as a scenic waterway, a natural waterway, or a recreational waterway has been sufficiently restored and enhanced in its natural scenic qualities in whole or in part, the whole area or part area may be submitted to the legislative assembly for classification to a higher status. No waterway shall be managed in a manner that would result in the area falling into a lower classification.

Section 10. If any standard or regulation adopted hereunder conflicts with a different standard or regulation of use established or adopted by any law or regulation of any municipal, county, state or federal agency, the more restrictive or stringent standard for the protection and preservation of the waterway shall apply.

Section 11. The commission may enter into cooperative agreements for joint federal-state administrative of rivers administered under federal law. The director is authorized to use moneys made available to it for administrative of this act by federal, private or other sources.

Section 12. Where circumstances warrant on any river classified under this system, the commission may limit recreational use by a permit system without fee.

Section 13. Nothing in this act shall preclude a private landowner holding lands within a waterway from protecting his lands by any legal means including, but not limited to, posting or enforcement of the trespass laws.

Section 14. Five (5) years after addition of a river or segment of a river to the system as a waterway, the director shall study the waterway reevaluating the uses being made of the waterway to determine if a new or other existing use should be allowed in the waterway. The director shall report his findings to the legislative assembly within six (6) months thereafter.

Section 15. Nothing in this act affects the jurisdiction or responsibility of other state agencies, except that such state agencies shall endeavor to perform their responsibilities in a manner consistent with the purposes of this act.

Section 16. Nothing in this act shall in any way interfere with existing water rights, diversions or maintenance of those diversions.

Section 17. The legislature intends that if any portion of this act is held to be unconstitutional, such holding shall not affect the remaining provisions.

Section 18. This act is effective on its passage and approval.
And as amended, do pass.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES

February 14, 1973

Mr. Speaker: We, your Committee on Agriculture, Livestock and Irrigation, having had under consideration House Bill No. 132, respectfully report as follows: That House Bill No. 132 be amended on page 1, line 4 of the title, after the 2nd word, "act" by striking the words and punctuation; "[to control corporate farming; providing for administration and enforcement by the Secretary of State and Attorney General]," and

Further amend on page 1, line 11, by striking all material after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following new material:

Section 1. This act shall be known as the "Montana Family Farm Act of 1973."

Section 2. It is hereby declared to be the public policy of the state: It is desirable to preserve free, private enterprise, to protect small business and prevent monopoly, and to protect opportunity for family farmers in the state, as well as to protect consumers. Vertical integration of the agricultural industry by the processing, distributing and retailing industries and conglomerate businesses have created situations of unfair, monopolistic competition for the family farmer. This situation has contributed to the decline of rural populations and the consequent crowding of metropolitan centers. It has resulted in a noticeable decline in competitions in some phases of agricultural production and threatens others. It is state policy to restore competition to the agricultural industry and to provide for the continuance of the family farm.

Section 3. As used in this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "agriculture" means the cultivation of the ground, the harvesting of crops, the production or the raising of plants or animals useful to man, or any combination thereof, but does not include livestock in feedlots. Livestock means cattle, sheep or swine. Feedlot means any area or building where cattle, sheep or swine are corralled, housed or penned or otherwise confined from grazing, and the purpose of such confinement is to fatten the cattle, sheep or swine for slaughter and not to return them to grazing."

(2) "agricultural land" means any rural real estate which is used or usable for the business of agriculture.

(3) "non-agricultural business" means a business in which more than forty percent (40%) of the business' annual gross receipts or $100,000 of its annual gross receipts, based on a three (3) year average, whichever is larger, is from any source other than agriculture, or other than allowing others to extract from the agricultural lands of the business any minerals underlying the same, including, but not limited to oil, gas, or coal.

(4) "corporation" includes business associations, joint-stock companies, and business trusts.

(5) "partnership" includes a syndicate, group, pool, joint venture, or other unincorporated organization, through or by means of which any business, financial operation or venture is carried on.

Section 4. No person, partnership, corporation, trust or conglomerate business entity engaged in non-agricultural business anywhere and owning or controlling assets amounting to more than $3,000,000 or owning or controlling stock or other share of capital in one or more business entities with a total value of $1,000,000 or more, such as, but not limited to, those corporations engaged in the meat or poultry packing business or the wholesaling or retailing of red meat, poultry or livestock products, including dairy products or engaged in the processing, purchasing, selling or handling of grain or other field crops including fruits, vegetables, pulses, or animal feeds; or engaged in the production, sale or distribution of agricultural chemicals and fertilizers or petroleum products; or engaged in the manufacture, sale or distribution of farm supplies, including machinery, buildings, fencing, or other equipment; or engaged in the business of insurance, banking, money lending or extension of real estate or production credit or selling goods to, or providing services to farmers, or engaging in other similar activities or in buying agricultural products from farm producers except farmer owned and controlled cooperatives, corporations and associations which meet the conditions of the Capper-Volstead Act shall directly or indirectly engage this state in agriculture or productions of agricultural products, or control, or attempt to control agricultural production through the owning, leasing, or holding or otherwise controlling land for agricultural purposes or by contracts with others or by integration, merger or any other means of acquisition or control; provided that the foregoing prohibition shall not apply in the case of any one or more of the following:

(1) charitable institutions which engage in agricultural production for other than income purposes as a part of their charitable function;

(2) education institutions engaged in research as a part of academic and extension activities;

(3) nonprofit institutions engaged in agricultural production solely for purposes of research; and

(4) grazing associations where membership is comprised solely of Montana residents.

Section 5. No foreign corporation and no domestic corporation subject to the prohibitions of Section 4, shall be formed or licensed under the Montana business corporation act.

Section 6. Nothing in any provision of this act shall be construed to prevent any creditor, legatee, beneficiary, or interstate successor subject to the provisions of this act from lawfully acquiring pursuant to legal proceedings, agricultural land or other means of agricultural production or of control of such means of agricultural production of they shall divest themselves of such property within two years of acquisition; provided, however, that for cause shown additional time may be obtained by petitioning the district court of the county in which such agricultural land is situated.

Section 7. Nothing in this act prohibits a person, partnership trunk or conglomerate business entity from engaging in the business of agriculture or from owning, leasing, holding or otherwise controlling agricultural land in this state, engaged in the business of agriculture within the state prior to the effective date of this act; provided, however, that no such person, partnership, corporation, etc. shall acquire or otherwise control, directly or indirectly, any agricultural land or engage in agriculture except to the extent which he had immediately prior to the effective date, hereof.

Section 8. The attorney general shall have appropriate authority to enforce the programs of this act.

Section 9. If a part of this act is invalid, all valid parts that are severable from the invalid part remain in effect. If a part of this act is invalid in one or more of its applications, the part remains in effect in all valid applications that are severable from the invalid applications.

And as amended, do pass.

Section 2. An "abortion" means any act or operation to intentionally terminate a pregnancy without live birth.

Section 3. (1) No abortion may be performed in the State of Montana, unless:

(a) such abortion is performed by a physician currently licensed by this State, in a medical office, clinic or hospital;

(b) the operation is performed before approximately the end of the first trimester; or, if after approximately the end of the first trimester, only according to procedures approved by the State Board of Health; but not after viability or approximately the end of the sixth month.

Should such decisions or paramount legislation permit further restrictions at any time hereafter, sections 94-401 and 94-402, R.C.M. 1947, shall be deemed to include such further restrictions, the legislature not hereby delegating authority, but intending, rather, to preserve the restrictions in such sections to the greatest extent possible.

For this reason, section 94-401 and 94-402, R.C.M. 1947, are not hereby repealed but are retained in force, subject to the restrictions in this act set forth and only as limited by said court decisions and paramount law. However, if the general fund budget of a school district exceeds the maximum budget as determined under Section 75-6905 the trustees may not adopt a general fund budget which exceeds one hundred and five percent (105%) of the general fund budget for the preceding year, unless such budget is adopted under conditions as provided in Sections 76-6723 through 75-6730 as adopted under 75-6903."

Absent or not voting: Holmes. Total 1.

Paired: Haines, Aye; Zimmer, Nay.

Holmes moved that the remarks made by Representative Lucas and Representative Hall on the Coal Moratorium be entered in the Journal.

Since neither one had their remarks in print, Mrs. Holmes withdrew her motion. The following remarks were written by Representative Holmes to be entered in the Journal:

"There are occasional revelatory moments in history when man's best thinking and his most noble sentiments meet and find expression in a single community experience. Such a moment occurred in the Montana House of Representatives on the evening of February 15, 1973. The issue at stake was the question as to whether or not there should be a pause in the development of strip mined coal in Montana. Deep concern was evidenced on both sides of the aisle for both sides of the question. Passions ran high and rhetoric abounded. Gradually the hall quieted, and there ensued a debate between Representative James Lucas and Representative John Hall which reached the level of excellence and inspiration rarely attained in modern legislative intercourse.

This debate may well become, in Montana history, a symbolic experience which will mark the end of an age of unlimited expansion, and herald an age of sacrificial stewardship of the land.

In the words of Representative John Hall, who closed the debate with a high call to the best that was in us, "This is not a time for thinking of the 'now'. It is the time to think and vote for all of the tomorrows that lie ahead."

Kvaalen moved that the House revert to Order of Business No. 2.

Motion failed.

Further amend on page 19, at the end of the bill by adding the following new sections to read, "Section 9.—Definitions. Imminent danger means a danger exists which could reasonably be expected to cause death or serious physical harm immediately, or before the imminence of such danger can be eliminated through the enforcement procedures otherwise provided by this act. A serious violation exists in a workplace if there is a substantial probability that death or serious physical harm could result from a condition which exists, or from one or more practices, means, methods, operations, or processes which have been adopted or are in use, in the workplace unless the employer did not, and could not with the exercise of reasonable diligence, know of the presence of the violation. Non-serious means a danger which is not a serious or imminent danger violation but is a violation of rules or regulations adopted under this act.

Section 10. Rule Making Power. The administration of this act is vested in the division of workmen's compensation of the department of labor and industry and it shall adopt and prepare written rules or regulations to carry out the intent of this act.

Section 11. Civil Penalties. Civil penalties assessed by the division under this act are as follows: (1) An employer who, due to an inspection, receives a citation for a violation of the requirements of a standard, code, rule, or order adopted or issued under this act, or of rules prescribed under this act, and the violation is determined not to be of a serious nature, may be assessed a civil penalty not exceeding $250.00 (two hundred fifty dollars and no/cents) for each violation. (2) An employer who, due to an inspection, has received a citation for a serious violation of the requirements of this act, or any standard, code, rule, or order adopted under this act, or of any rules prescribed under this act shall be assessed a civil penalty not exceeding $500.00 (five hundred dollars and no/cents) for each violation. (3) An employer who is found to be in violation of a licensing requirement of this act, and the violation is determined not to be of a serious nature, may be assessed a civil penalty not exceeding $250.00 (two hundred fifty dollars and no/cents) for each violation. (4) An employer who is found to be in violation of the licensing requirements of this act and the violation is considered serious shall be assessed a civil penalty not exceeding $500.00 (five hundred dollars and no/cents) for each violation. (5) An employer who fails to correct a violation for which a citation has been issued, within the period permitted for its correction, may be assessed a civil penalty not exceeding $100.00 (one hundred dollars and no/cents) for each day during which the failure or violation continues. (6) An employer who willfully or repeatedly violates the requirements of this act, any standard, rule, code, or order adopted under this act, or rules prescribed under this act, may be assessed a civil penalty not exceeding $1,000.00 (one thousand dollars and no/cents) for each violation. (7) An employer who violates any standard, code, rule, or order issued under this act, and that violation caused death to an employee, shall, upon conviction, be fined not exceeding $5,000.00 (five thousand dollars and no/cents) or imprisoned not exceeding six (6) months in the county jail or both.

Section 12. Penalties. Civil penalties owed under this act shall be paid to the division for deposit into the state treasury to the credit of the general fund and shall accrue to this state and may be recovered in a civil action in the name of department of revenue brought in district court in the county where the violation is alleged to have occurred or where the employer has its principal office.

Section 13. Section 69-1517, R.C.M. 1947 shall be amended to read, "69-1517. Operation of boiler or steam engine without license. It is unlawful for any person in this state to operate a stationary boiler or steam engine, or any boiler or steam engine other than railroad locomotives or other engines and boilers exempted by the provisions of section 69-1515, without a license granted under the provisions of this article. The owner, renter, or user of any steam engine or boiler is equally liable for the violation of this section. But in case of accident, sickness, refusal to work, or any unforeseen prevention of the licensed engineer employed by any owner, renter, or user of a steam engine or boiler operated in remote districts, which would retard the work to be performed, the owner, renter, or user may, for the space of fifteen days, employ any person of the age of eighteen years whom he may consider competent to run the engine or boiler, although such person so employed may not be the holder of an engineer's license. The person so employing the unlicensed engineer must immediately notify the inspector or assistant inspector. But no owner, renter, or user of steam machinery shall be allowed to so employ unlicensed engineers for more than fifteen days in any one calendar year. And it shall be unlawful, except as stated in this section, for any person, firm, or corporation to employ any person not duly licensed as an engineer, within the meaning of this act, to run or operate any of the boilers or engines subject to the provisions of this act.", and

As amended, be held over until the Second Half of the 43rd Legislative Session in January, 1974.
